

SAFE ZONE

Keep the most important aspects of your design within the green Safe Zone area. Anything outside of this area runs the risk of not being printed on the final product.

The red Bleed Area likely will not show in the final print, but is there to assist with potential printing and alignment errors. To make sure the entire playing card is covered with artwork, please extend your artwork all the way through the bleed area. If you do not extend through the bleed area, you run the risk of potential white/blank areas.

The base of the card is white. If you have transparency in your design, white will show through in the final print. If you would like a border on your card, that will need to be applied to your design before you submit your graphic to the app.
