

SAFE ZONE

Keep the most important aspects of your design within the green Safe Zone to ensure those elements are on the final print.

If you want the entire print area covered with artwork, extend your background through the red Bleed Area. The bleed area will likely not show on the final print, but is there in case of potential alignment errors.

The base of the product is white. All white in your design will be the absence of ink and the base color will show.